

ON STAGE AT THE GRAND

THE GRAND 1894 OPERA HOUSE

SPRING ISSUE 1998

Danny O'Flaherty and The Celtic Folk

Saturday, March 7, 1998 • 8:00 PM

The Brothers O'Flaherty, born in the Gaelic-speaking area of Galway, Ireland, bring their love of Celtic heritage, music and fun to The Grand. With accordion, flute, tin whistle, mandolin and guitar, Danny and Patrick O'Flaherty, Ireland's premier balladeers, sing rowdy songs of the sea and glen, rollicking songs of whiskey and women, rueful songs of rebellion and rising, and aching calls for tolerance and peace.

This performance is sponsored in part by:

Molly's Pub & Old Cellar Bar